Risk profile*

Synthetic risk & reward indicator

Lower risk			Higher risk
1	2	3	4	5	6	7

This indicator represents the risk profile displayed in the PRIIPs Key Information Document. The synthetic risk indicator (SRI) makes it possible to assess the level of risk compared to other funds.

The synthetic risk indicator assumes that you keep the Sub-Fund for the entire recommended minimum investment period of 3 years. You cannot perceive a return on investment in advance. You may not be able to sell your Sub-Fund easily or you may have to sell at a price which could significantly impact your return on investment.

The historical data used for the calculation of this indicator may not constitute a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund. The risk category associated with the Sub-Fund is not guaranteed and may change over time. The lowest category does not mean "risk free".

The Sub-Fund is currently ranked at 4 due to its exposure to a diversified portfolio of UCIs and managed accounts. Among the major risks identified by the European texts, the Sub-Fund may be exposed to the following risks, which are not adequately captured by the risk indicator: credit risk, counterparty risk and liquidity risk.

The SRI does not take into account the tax treatment of the Sub-Fund according to the wealth and tax situation of the targeted retail investor. You may not be able to sell it easily or you may have to sell it at a price that will significantly affect the amount you will receive in return. The Sub-Fund does not include any return or capital guarantee against the vagaries of the market. You could lose all or part of the capital invested.

* Please refer to the Prospectus of the Sub-Fund for the details of the risks associated to this Sub-Fund.

GEMS OLYMPIA UCITS FUND - Diversified Flexible Strategy

As of January 19, 2021, the exposure of the Diversified Flexible Strategy sub-fund to the equity markets may represent up to 100% of its net assets, whereas previously the FCP's prospectus indicated that: "The exposure of the Sub-fund to the equity markets is limited. to 80% of its net assets. At least 20% of the net assets of the Sub-Fund will be exposed to debt securities and / or money markets". Please refer to the Prospectus of the Gems Olympia UCITS Fund for a complete and detailed list of the risk associated to the Fund and its Sub-Funds.

Monthly investment commentary

The Diversified Flexible Strategy ("DFS") sub-fund of the Gems Olympia UCITS Fund declined 1,87% in February (unit I-USD).

Markets retraced much of January gains after economic data showed inflation to be stickier than expected. The US Consumer Price Index (CPI) softened from 6.5 to 6.4% year-over-year in January, falling short of analysts' expectations for a 6.2% rate. The scenario was near identical in the Eurozone, where the CPI eased just 0.1% point to 8.5% yoy, missing the consensus forecast (8.2%). In addition, the US employment report came much stronger-than-expected, drawing concerns that wage growth will keep fueling inflation. This could compel central banks to stay the course on rate hikes at the risk of precipitating a recession.

Equities in DFS posted a combined 150bps negative contribution (gross), as the risk of further rate hikes weighed on stocks (S&P 500 -2.6%). Fixed income securities also declined (-60bps contribution) as high yield bonds and emerging markets debt suffered from a combination of higher rates and stronger dollar. DFS' commodity strategy pared some of the losses from the other asset classes, with a +38bps contribution in February.

DFS halved its equity exposure to 26% net and significantly reduced its exposure to high yield bonds to account for the uncertainty surrounding the path of inflation. Further data points will be needed to assess whether the latest data were merely bumps on the road to lower inflation or the early signs that high inflation is here to stay.
